VOLUME XLIII. NUMBER 9.

IRONTON, MISSOURI.
THURSDAY, AUG. 12, 1909.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Brown has a new ad.
Probate court is in session.
Lots of watermelons these days.
The dust on Main street is most annoying.
Teacher's examinations August 27th and 28th.
Big Camp meeting at Des Arc, August 19th-30th.
County court proceedings are published this week.
Dry, dry, awfully dry and hot, with no relief in sight.
The mercury in the thermometer climbed to 99 Tuesday.

The ice factory seems to be a dead proposition these days.

About as dry as it ever gets to be in this part of the country.

The colored folk had quite a successful picnic last Wednesday.

Some wheat from the Bellevue country coming into town these days.

The Epworth Leaguers have closed the deal for the Kath's place in Arcadia.

The screen factory buildings grow more desolate and neglected in appearance.

The hub factory, after being idle several weeks, resumed operations Monday.

Special Bargains in White Goods and India Linens at Lopez's during the big sale.

It is said that an effort will be made to establish a railroad office at Pilot Knob again.

There are some apples but so far no very fine ones have found their way into town.

No. 3 was five hours late Friday. A freight wreck at Blackwell occasioned the delay.

It is proposed to raise the funds to repair the band pagoda by popular subscription. By all means let it be done.

Thompson Blanton, Jos. A. Reymann, Jesse M. Hawkins and E. B. Runder are fishing on St. Francis river this week.

The Russellville drives are in better condition than they have been for years. In fact, just about as good as they ever were.

To Mr. Emil Roehry, now sojourning at San Antonio, Texas, we return thanks for a post card picture of the famous Alamo.

Dr. Trauernicht will occupy the residence vacated by Mr. Hummel's family when they leave for the south some time next month.

County Commissioner Burnham is in Jefferson City attending the convention of County Superintendents, called together by State Superintendent Gass.

To Dr. W. J. Smith we are indebted for a basket of most exquisite and beautiful peaches. They were grown in Oregon county and certainly were very fine.

Bob Patton, who went to Sapulpa, Oklahoma, a month ago, returned home last week. Too hot and dry in Oklahoma, and no place like Missouri, anyway.

For Sale—18,000 feet of second hand lumber, in tip top condition. Big bargain.

JOS. MADLINGER,
Pilot Knob, Mo.

There will be a barbecue and fish fry in Hill's Grove, west Ironton, Saturday, August 28th, for the benefit of the colored Baptist church. See bills for particulars.

FOR RENT.—The premises north of Lopez Co.'s store, formerly occupied by Aug. Rieke. Will be leased to reputable party on reasonable terms. Apply to Aug. Rieke.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Amelung, of Pilot Knob, have the sympathy of the community in the death of their year-old baby boy, Theodore, which occurred last Sunday.

James and LeRoy Brooks, sons of James Brooks, of Pilot Knob, were discharged from jail last Saturday, after having served seven months for stealing a Hungarian neighbor's chickens.

Fred Delano tells us that the six acres he set out in tobacco plants this spring are not doing any good. The drought and late time at which he got out the plants are responsible for the failure, he says.

Rev. Strother was here from Des Arc last week and informed us that he would probably go to Illinois soon to remain for some time. The REGISTER wishes him his greatest success wherever he may locate.

The home of his honor, Mayor Geo. J. Goeltz, Jr., of Bismarck, was made happy by the arrival of a baby boy, Saturday, July 31st, 1909. We are glad to learn that all are doing well. Ironton friends extend congratulations.

The Fort Hill Epworth League will have a Social next Saturday afternoon and evening in the Arcadia Hotel park. Ice-cream, ices, cake, lemonade, fruit sundays (I'm not sure of the spelling of this—these new-fangled dainties outstrip my knowledge; but there will be fruit sundays—spoil it as you like) beside other good things not here enumerated. The public is cordially invited to attend. The cause is a good one, and the time is propitious.

Mr. J. N. Lewis, state and county collector, requests us to tell the taxpayers that he has received the tax books for the current year and is now ready to receipt you for the taxes of 1909. Mr. Lewis will be glad to have you call early.

Mrs. Edward Brown, wife of the Secretary of the Big M. C. & L. Company, and daughter Marian, of St. Louis, returned to the city Saturday evening last, after visiting a couple of weeks in the valley, the guests of Arthur Huff and family.

The four months' old babe of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosentreter died Sunday, and the remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery at Middlebrook the following day. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all their friends in their sorrow.

Louis Miller has acquired title to the old Arcadia Hotel property in Arcadia, from the railroad. The deed given Mr. Miller recites that within sixty days he must begin the erection of eight or ten cobblestone bungalows on the land acquired, and many other improvements.

Who, in this weather, would be a lawyer in a hotly contested suit? Or a witness under crossfire? Or a jurymen in the narrow confinement allotted him? His Honor is the only participant who may temper duty with any degree of comfort, and even him the attorneys not infrequently put into water calorized to the boiling point. The client not infrequently warms up after the trial, when all the others are cooling off.

I have a beautiful line of ready-made shirt waists—all the very newest styles—that I am closing out at half price. All belts, including elastic belts, at 25 cents each. Ready-to-wear, trimmed and untrimmed hats—all go at half price. Everything must be sold by September 1st, and they will be closed out by that time. Come and see the bargains I am prepared to give you.

Respectfully,
MRS. WOODSIDE.

The Leagues of Farmington District will send representatives to Arcadia on August 25th to inspect the property purchased there for their encampment. Rates of $4.00 per day have been made. There is an opportunity for families to secure tents at a reasonable price by conferring with E. A. Meyer, Arcadia. Several tenting families will spend August and September there. This has been very popular all season, and it is an inexpensive way to get a delightful rest—Farmington Times.

An apple of singular growth was brought to this office by Mr. W. H. Delano yesterday. It is fully formed and of medium size. The upper half is of the Early Summer variety, ripe and mellow, while the lower half is a Russet, green and hard. The joining of the skins of the two varieties is perfect, but clearly marked. Mr. Delano says the trees of the two species stand side by side, and he conjectures that the pollen of their blossoms was carried by bees from one to the other. A novelty in fruit grafting, indeed.

The Arcadia Heights School will open for the fall session in Dr. Wick's residence, west Ironton, September 15th. It will be a military school for boys and a preparatory school for girls. The fall and winter sessions will be held in the Wick's home, the summer session on the Heights. Rev. Fuller Swift is Superintendent and Mr. Howard C. Taylor his assistant. It is made possible to inaugurate the school this fall by the generosity of Dr. Wick in placing his home at the disposal of the people who have the matter in charge. Full particulars next week.

Henry and George Stockwell, father and son, who live near Jordan in this county, were found guilty by a jury in Squire Rasche's court Tuesday of the charge of exhibiting dangerous and deadly weapons in an angry and threatening manner. The Stockwells were charged with forcing a young man by the name of Ellis into marrying their daughter and sister at the point of a gun. The father was fined $50 and three months in jail. The son was let off with a fine of $50. As neither have the money they will spend the time in jail. The elder Stockwell says that he is in the employ of the United States as a spotter for timber thieves and boot leggers.

The Ironton band made music for the picnic and horse show at Belgrade last Saturday. It's a long drive from here to Belgrade—fully twenty miles. The boys left here in the big wagon, with four horses, and did not get home until two o'clock Sunday morning. The day was an ideal one for a picnic, and the attendance immense. The hospitable Belgradians saw that every one had a good time. The boys say that the Republicans hereabouts who are forever growling about the roads in Democratic Iron county should make the drive to Belgrade. They would then know and appreciate how very far superior are the roads in Democratic Iron county to those in Republican Washington county. And thus it hath ever been.

James R. Harvey, one of De Soto's oldest and respected citizens, died at his home in this city last Monday morning. He was loved and respected by all who knew him, a kind and loving father, a true husband and a good citizen. He will be sadly missed in De Soto by his many friends. The funeral services were held at the residence in this city on Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock conducted by Rev. Williams after which the remains were taken to the city cemetery and laid to rest with K. of P. honors by Royal Arch Lodge No. 41 of which he was one of the three surviving charter members, his death only leaving two remaining. The Press joins the many friends of the deeply bereaved family in extending sympathy and condolence in their sad loss of a loving father and a true husband. May he rest in peace.—De Soto Press.

Don't fail to attend the Big Ten Days' Clearing Sale—August 8th to 18th—at Lopez's. Special Bargains have been provided all over the store.

FARM FOR SALE—160 acres, 70 under cultivation. First place in Barn Hollow nine miles southeast of Ironton on Silver Mines road, belonging to B. F. Laszley. Two houses and two barns, spring house, one well and one spring, good water. For further information apply to Fred Kindell, Jr., Ironton, Mo.

Des Arc Items.

We have had some fine rains. One or two more and the corn crop will be assured.

The saw mills are beginning to start. Tom Lovelace, Henry Berry, Jim Brown and Bud Midkiff will start their mills next week.

Lumber is more in demand, but prices are no better.

Mr. Geo. C. Williams was down at Piedmont last week and secured an extension of thirty days on his option on the Des Arc lead mine. He thinks he will close a big deal by that time.

O'Bannon & Co. shipped a big saw mill from here to Arkansas last week. The freight was $297. Beat any freight bill I ever heard of. The mill could have been shipped from New York for less than that.

ELEGY ON A PET MARE, owned by Thos. P. Fitz, Des Arc.

Old Doll is dead! May we not grieve for one so true? Could you believe that she for twenty-five long years, Had lived within this vale of tears?

And though the tears may not have shed We grieve to think old Doll is dead!

Old Doll was faithful, kind and true, Excelling her were very few.

She could canter, pace and trot, And do what other nags do not.

The little folks could go so near her And yet there was no cause to fear her.

Much sooner would she them protect, The young and old did she respect.

G. W. Morris came over from Farmington and accompanied his family home Sunday.

Mrs. Jas. Lovelace has returned to Poplar Bluff.

R. L. Stamp and W. J. Fitz went to St. Louis Monday.

Epworth Among the Hills.

Situated in one of the most beautiful valleys in the world and surrounded by lovely mountains, and just eighty-nine miles from St. Louis, is "Beautiful Arcadia." This valley has been famed as a summer resort for many years. Here, about seventy-five years ago, Rev. J. C. Berryman founded our first Methodist school in this State. A plan is now in progress that will bring lasting blessings to Arcadia and our cause in the whole of the St. Louis conference. Just east of Arcadia and running from the depot one-half mile is a plot of ground, consisting of 500 acres. It contains many building sites, which give some wondrous views. Springs are on all parts of the ground; so that with a great outlay of money this could be a magnificent park.

This ground is being plotted and laid off into one-acre lots for summer or permanent homes. In the heart of it and on the most commanding spot there has been given to the M. E. Church, South, forty-five acres for a Methodist summer encampment. The Epworth Leaguers are the first to move in this matter, but it is their wish that it shall be the great rallying center of all the forces of the church hereabouts.

These lots will be sold at a remarkably low figure, so that all of our preachers and people may have the privilege of a summer home, and we want them to have first choice. No lot will be sold without certain restrictions.

It is in no sense a scheme to make money. If any profit should be made every dollar of it will be spent on beautifying the place with lakes, driveways, etc.

I have never seen more charming scenery than is to be had from where we hope to have our tabernacle. We hope next year to have a great gathering of our people from all over the conference.

Look into the matter and secure you a lot now. None of the forty-five acres will be sold. Arcadia is rallying splendidly to the enterprise. Now let others do as well. Write Rev. W. B. Hays, Farmington, for particulars.—R. L. Russell in Christian Advocate.

John Mangold Buys Property.

Eureka Springs, (Ark.) Times-Echo: "For the past fourteen years, Mr. John Mangold and family, of St. Louis, have been frequent visitors to Eureka Springs. They came here first on account of the poor health of Mrs. Mangold, whom Mr. Mangold had feared was a confirmed invalid. Her complete recovery is now evident to any who meets the good lady, and the fact of her recovery has made for Eureka Springs a lasting friend in the person of Mr. John Mangold, the president and general manager of the Mangold Stave and Co. Co., of St. Louis, one of the largest institutions of its nature in the United States. Since their coming to our resort, various members of the family have been greatly benefited by the use of Eureka Springs water during their frequent visits, and they are again guests of the city, occupying the Bacon cottage on Prospect avenue at the present time.

For several days past there have been rumors current of a possible change in the ownership of the splendid Sanitarium tract of 1800 acres south of the city, but no one outside of those directly interested were able to locate the probable purchaser, whose name was made known to-day by the transfer of properties to his hands.

The writer sought Mr. Mangold to-day, and questioned him relative to problem plans. He found that gentleman to be one of those conservative men of affairs who believe more in work than words. He briefly stated that he had purchased a one-third interest in the tract mentioned, from Mr. M. W. Swope, and that while improvements were contemplated, he was not ready to state just when and of what nature they would be.

Mr. Mangold states that heretofore his company has been operating almost exclusively with timber secured over the territory traversed by the Iron Mountain Railway, and the writer would infer from his conversation that at least a part of the timber used might henceforth be secured from this section.

Besides being president and general manager of the Mangold Stave and Co. Co., Mr. Mangold is a dealer in farm and timber lands, and all kinds of lumber, the headquarters for which are located in Harviell, Mo.

Middlebrook Items.

A. J. Gorg, tie and timber agent, was here last week.

E. F. Crispy, Armour Packing Co., was here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Trauernicht, of Ironton, and Mrs. Wm. Trauernicht, of Bismarck, visited here Sunday.

Miss Marie Rodach visited at Bellevue a couple of days this week.

John W. Jones went to Bismarck Monday.

Bellevue Items.

Motwithstanding we had pretty fair rains here two weeks ago, the ground is apparently as dry as it was before the rains; the fact is, corn is actually burning up, and the dust is almost unbearable. Friday and Saturday last good rains fell near Brule, and at other points not far from this valley. It is a positive fact now that the corn crops here are damaged fully one-half, while millet cannot make more than a half crop.

Judge Buford and Judge Thompson were in Ironton last week holding court.

Harry Walden, our popular barber, was in Ironton Friday on business.

Dave Lasiter made a business trip to De Soto last week.

T. N. Marr and daughter were in Ironton Saturday.

J. C. Russell and son, Hubert, were in Ironton Saturday.

Quite a number from the valley attended the picnic at Belgrade Saturday.

Charley Bond last Saturday sold his household and kitchen furniture, preparatory to making a tour of Oklahoma.

Postmaster Paulus left here last Thursday on a visit to his son in Washington.

Andy Wyatt had business in Ironton Saturday.

T. N. Marr last week sold his farm to a gentleman from Scott county; consideration $4000. Mr. Marr will, we understand, remove his family to Ironton.

Miss Lizzie Russell drove out to Iron Mountain last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. H. Edmonds and Nellie Stephens last Saturday afternoon visited Mrs. J. T. Paterson.

Miss Emma Hawkins opened her school in the "Sawyer" district last Monday.

Delbert Price and sister, Miss Hester, attended church on Imboden Sunday.

Will Warren was clerking for W. R. Read Thursday, during the absence of D. Lasater.

Rev. McBride filled his regular appointment here Sunday, and in the afternoon baptized Miss Minnie Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hartman.

Frank Fitzpatrick, of St. Louis, spent a few days with friends and relatives here last week.

H. McColl was in Ironton Friday.

Private Sale at Big Discount.

One and one-fourth acres corn, in field; one large marble top dresser with glass; stand and washstand; walnut bedstead; fine hall glass hat stand and umbrella stand; kitchen cabinet table; Buck Range; plush sofa and cedar wardrobe combined, insect proof, and other goods. All at big discount terms. Owner going away Monday. Call at White Wyandotte Poultry farm, Friday and Saturday. Don't miss these bargains. See Red Sign one mile west of Ironton court house.

Carver Creek.

The prospect for corn crops are reasonably good but at present rain is needed.

Miss Lena Scoggin of Glover has been seriously ill but is recovering.

Mrs. M. T. Dement of near Brunot was the guest of Mrs. J. N. Allen recently.

Our school opened August 2, with fairly good attendance.

Mrs. G. W. Scoggin of Glover, who has been in severe health for some time, went to St. Louis for a surgical operation. We hope she may regain health.

Preparations will be made for an ice-cream social on the church yard near Mr. Allen's home Saturday night, August 28th. All are cordially invited to attend.

Obituary.

Died—At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Wood, near Tolu, Mo., Thursday, July 22, 1909, at 5:00 p. m., Bertha Wood, aged 26 years, 10 months and 8 days.

Another voice has been still, another hope vanished, another flower faded. In the garden of bliss and happiness another face has been removed, another father made to weep, another mother's tears to flow and heart to bleed, and the language of those lips ceased, the meek intelligence of those dear eyes hidden and thy own sweet smile—the same that of childhood—made to vanish, by the cruel hand of death. By the secrecy of that hideous monster, yet at his work separating the
